C. The Requesters

Centro de Periodismo Investigativo (CPI) is a non-profit, public interest organization that recognizes that the fundamental requirement for a true democracy is that all citizens are well-informed and have access to necessary information to make informed decisions, by relying on independent entities that promote transparency in decision-making by the powers that operate in society, whether public or private. As an organization dedicated to the promotion of journalism as a means to informing a public about critical decisions being discussed and made related to their lives, CPI dedicates resources to reporting, writing, and editing original journalistic stories about our infinitely complex and dynamic society to counter increasingly narrow narratives, secretive government practices and data manipulation. Through access to information, each citizen has the ability to participate more fully in democracy and to hold those in power accountable.

LatinoJustice PRLDEF (“LJP”), formerly the Puerto Rican Legal Defense and Education Fund, is a nonprofit civil rights legal and advocacy organization which champions an equitable society by using the power of the law together with advocacy and education. Since being founded in 1972, LatinoJustice PRLDEF has advocated for and defended the constitutional rights and the equal protection of all Latinos under the law, including litigating numerous landmark cases. LJP engages in advocacy via numerous local, regional and national coalitions, networks and alliances concerning a myriad of issues related to the broad scope of our work. We produce newsletters, blogs, reports, opinion editorials, video interviews and applications and software related to the analysis and understanding of civil rights issues, as well as providing resources for assistance with violations of rights. All of our services and materials are free and available to the public.

The Center for Constitutional Rights (“CCR”) is a non-profit, public interest, legal, and public education organization that engages in litigation, public advocacy, and the production of publications in the fields of civil and international human rights. CCR’s diverse dockets include litigation and advocacy around policing, and racial and ethnic profiling. CCR is a member of several networks nationally and provides legal support to civil rights movements. One of CCR’s primary activities is the publication of newsletters, know-you-rights handbooks, legal analysis of current immigration law issues, and other similar materials for public dissemination. These and other materials are available through CCR’s Development, Communications, and Education & Outreach Departments. CCR operates a website, www.ccrjustice.org, which addresses the issues on which the Center works. The website includes material on topical civil and racial justice rights issues and material concerning CCR’s work. All of this material is freely available to the public. In addition, CCR regularly issues press releases and a regularly updated blog, as well as “action alerts” sent to over 50,000 members that notify supporters and the general public about developments and operations pertaining to CCR’s work. CCR staff members often serve as sources for journalist and media outlets, including on issues related to racial justice, police brutality, racial discrimination, and the right to dissent.

D. Fee Waiver

The Requesters are entitled to a fee waiver pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552 (a)(4)(A)(iii), 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k), and 28 C.F.R. § 16.10(k) on the grounds that “disclosure of the requested records is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to the public understanding of the activities or operations of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester[s].” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii); see also 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k) (records furnished by DHS without charge if the information is in the public interest, and disclosure is not in the commercial interest of institution); 28 C.F.R. § 16.10 (k) (records furnished by DOJ without charge if the information is in the public interest, and disclosure is not in the commercial interest of institution). See, e.g., McClellan Ecological v. Carlucci, 835 F.2d 1282, 1285 (9th Cir. 1987). Requesters meet the requirements for a fee waiver because the subject of the request concerns the operations or activities of the government; the disclosure of the information is likely to contribute to a significant public understanding of government operations or activities due to the requesters’ expertise in the subject area and ability to convey the information; the Requesters’ primary interest is in disclosure; and they have no commercial interest in the information. In addition, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II), 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(k)(2)(iii), (k)(3)(ii), and 28 C.F.R. § 16.10(k)(2)(iii), (k)(3)(ii), the Requesters qualify as a “representatives of the news media,” defined as “any person or entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn the raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii); see also 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(b)(6); 28 C.F.R. § 16.10(b)(6).

As described in Part D above, the Requesters are non-profit organizations dedicated to civil rights and human rights, and have a proven track-record of compiling and disseminating information and reports to the public about government functions and activities, including the government’s record and position on surveillance, protests, policing and racial justice. The Requesters have undertaken this work in the public interest and not for any private commercial interest. Similarly, the primary purpose of this FOIA request is to obtain information to further the public’s understanding of government actions and policies in regards to the surveillance of peaceful protestors. Access to this information is crucial for the Requesters and the communities they serve to evaluate governmental surveillance actions and their potential detrimental efforts.

As stated above, the Requesters have no commercial interest in this matter. The Requesters will make any information that they receive as a result of this FOIA request available to the public, including the press, at no cost. Disclosure in this case therefore meets the statutory criteria, and a fee waiver would fulfill Congress' legislative intent in amending FOIA. See Judicial Watch Inc. v. Rossotti, 326 F.3d 1309 (D.C. Cir. 2003) ("Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be 'liberally construed in favor of waivers of noncommercial requesters.'").

In the alternative, we request a limitation of processing fees pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II). ("[F]ees shall be limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication when records are not sought for commercial use and the request is made by . . . a representative of the news media."). See also 6 C.F.R. § 5.11(d)(1); 28 C.F.R. § 16.10(d)(1). If no fee waiver is granted and the fees exceed $250.00, please contact the Requesters' undersigned counsel to obtain consent to incur additional fees.

E. Expedited Processing

The Requesters are entitled to expedited processing of this request because there is a "compelling need" for the information. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(i)(I). A "compelling need" is established when there exists an "urgency to inform the public about an actual or alleged Federal Government activity," when the requester is a "person primarily engaged in disseminating information," 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(ii); 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(e)(ii).

There is an urgent need to inform the public of the policies and decision-making regarding the establishment, composition and appointment process of the federal fiscal control (or oversight) board.

As described in part C above, Centro de Periodismo Investigativo, as a journalistic organization, is primarily engaged in disseminating information. Centro de Periodismo Investigativo has a proven track-record of compiling and disseminating information and reports to the public about government functions and activities, including the federal fiscal control board. Centro de Periodismo Investigativo will use its press and media connections as well as its considerable web infrastructure to publicly disseminate information received from this request on a national scale.

In addition, the DOJ grants expedited processing where the subject of the request is a "matter of widespread and exceptional media interest in which there exist possible questions about the government's integrity that affect public confidence." 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(e) (iv). There is widespread and exceptional media interest in the federal fiscal control board. The lack of transparency of the establishment, composition and appointment process of the federal fiscal control board calls into question government integrity and affects public confidence. In addition, decisions related to the economic well-being of Puerto Rico and its citizens are being made on an accelerated timeline and with great haste, therefore the urgency of this request justifies an expedited processing.

F. Certification & Conclusion

The Requester certifies that the above information is true and correct to the best of the Requesters' knowledge. See 6 C.F.R. § 5.5(d)(3); 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(e)(3). If this Request is denied in whole or in part, the Requesters ask that the Department of Treasury justify all deletions by reference to specific exemptions of FOIA. The Requesters expects the Department of Treasury to release all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material, and reserves the right to appeal a decision to withhold any records or to deny the within application for expedited processing and waiver of fees.
